The diagram shows three stacked layers of urban planning. The top layer, labeled 'Sbbouwing' (Building), shows a grid of building footprints. The middle layer, labeled 'Infrastructuur' (Infrastructure), shows a network of orange lines representing roads and utilities. The bottom layer, labeled 'Groen en waterstructuur' (Green and water structure), shows green spaces and blue water bodies. Vertical dashed lines connect the layers, indicating the integration of different planning aspects.
